

Library Thoughts From the Professor Vol 2 Chapter 2

Well unfortunately we have no books or tapes or DVD's to review this month as we did not have the Library available at the last meeting. We do have something to report which may be of interest to you who do use the library. Earlier this summer I received an email from Jane Campbell who is the daughter of Ron Newcomb. Those of you who have been involved with this club would be aware that Ron passed away a while ago and that he was renowned as a fly tyer and fisherman. Jane contacted me as she wanted to donate his collection of fly tying materials and his fly tying and related books. She wanted to donate them to a organization that meant something to Ron and that would make good use of the items. When she thought about it she remembered the relationship that Ron had with the club and that this was the right spot for the donation. The materials and books were picked up and the materials are presently being sorted out to determine the best use for the books and materials and that will be brought to the board to make a decision as to how to handle them. In the end it is likely that this will add some 42 books to the library, plus a few additional duplicates. It includes books with some autographed by the author to the Ron even a first edition or two. So look forward to the new additions to the library list in the future
